It is said that confidence men in Paris have got away with a good many confiding Americans and made it difficult for them to get away from Paris without walking.

James Reddick, the oldest citizen of Ohio, died recently at the alleged age of 123. He was an Onioan by adoption, but by birth a Virginian of the smoked persuasion.

The Treasury of the State of Kentucky is in the hands of the Sheriff. The Treasury couldn't run from the Sheriff like that fugitive Gubernatorial claimant, Taylor, did.

The latest crank to seek the notice of Miss Helen Gould is a young negro, who wants to persuade her that he is her half-brother. He called sometime ago and wanted only $1,000,000.

A man was nominated for office a few days ago by a Populist convention in Missouri, whose looming distinction, according to the nominating orator, was that he was "five feet ten inches high, thirty years old and never et a biscuit." He was nominated on the first ballot.

Hanna's latest scheme for frying the fat out of fourth-class postmasters is unique. He sends them ten tickets of membership to the National Republican League at 50 cents each, which they are expected to "sell" and remit $5 in good United States money. Mark is a daisy for getting around the assessment business.

At a dinner given by the Union League of Philadelphia to Mark Hanna, Hon. Chauncey Depew made some postprandial remarks in which he eulogized Mark as the representative of the business men in politics. As a combiner of business and politics Mark has made a mark that there is no rubbing out. He stands easily head and shoulders above the multitude, and in circumference likewise.

Negro Died Suddenly.

Wess Murphy, a colored laborer at the Clyde steamship wharf, aged about thirty-five years and living at No. 106 Walnut street, was found dead in his bed this morning shortly after midnight by Sallie Bryant, a colored woman, living in an adjoining room in the tenement house. She was attracted by the death struggles of the man and L. Smith, a colored man also living in the house, was notified. He communicated with Policeman Harriss on the beat and Dr. R. J. Price, the coroner, was summoned, but found with a casual examination that death likely resulted from natural causes. Further investigation will be made this morning.

LOCAL DOTS.

— A gentleman who is in a position to know remarked yesterday that the peach crop in the South this year is unprecedented and there will be more than the railroads can haul.

— In making excavations for the foundations of the Elks' Temple, a number of large clam, oyster and various other shells were exhumed yesterday. They have been well preserved.

—Brooklyn Baptist Sunday school will give its annual excursion to Carolina Beach to day and the event promises to be a most delightful one. Mr. J. H. McDougall, the efficient superintendent, will be in charge.

— Now, if the Democrats will make their ticket William Jennings Bryan, of Nebraska, and David Bennett Hill, of New York, there'll be "weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth" among the Hannaites and Roosevelters.

— The schooner Sarah D. Fell, Capt. Loveland, cleared yesterday with a cargo of piling from W. H. Robbins & Bro., for Philadelphia. Capt. Loveland, during his stay in port, made many friends here, who will be glad to know that he will be along this way again in a few weeks.

— Thos. Newkirk, colored, was tried before J. J. Fowler, J. P.; yesterday for stevedoring without a license. Suit was brought at the instance of the licensed stevedores. Another big excursion from Elrod and points on the New Southeastern railroad terminating at Boardman, will arrive via Chadbourn this morning. This party also will be taken through to Wrightsville.

Grace Church Sunday School.

The annual excursion of the Sunday School of Grace Methodist Church to Carolina Beach yesterday was liberally patronized, the event being one of the most successful entertainments of its character on the steamer Wilmington this season. The school has the largest enrollment in the city and Mr. W. B. Cooper, the clever superintendent, did all in his power to contribute to the enjoyment of the children and their friends who thus devoted the day to recreation and pleasure.

Annual Excursion.

Mr. R. E. Pipkin, the well known excursion manager of Goldsboro, writes the STAR that he will run his annual excursion to Norfolk, Washington and Baltimore on or about July 24th. Definite announcement will be made later.

FOR THE AMENDMENT

Wilmington's Organization Will Be Completed With Fourth Ward To-night.

SECOND WARD IN RANKS.

Union Intact Since the Last Campaign. Brilliant Inaugural Meeting--Tidings from Sister Counties--Cameron Morrison, Esq, Here.

By far the largest and most enthusiastic gathering of white men for the organization of a White Supremacy Club yet assembled in the city was that last night in the Merchants' Association rooms in the Seaboard Air Line building. It was a re-assembling of the White Government Union of the Second Ward, which has held its organization intact since the memorable campaign of 1898, Mr. W. E. Springer, the president, called the meeting to order and Mr. R. C. Sloan, the secretary, was instructed to read the minutes of the last meeting held on November 3rd, 1898. As the subject matter of the record was read by Secretary Sloan it revived recollections of the past and numerous paragraphs of the same evoked hearty applause.

The Treasurer's report was also read, showing a very creditable balance to this year's fund for the expenses of the club.

It was decided by the Union to resolve itself into a "White Supremacy Club," and the constitution and by-laws prescribed by the State Executive Committee were adopted with enthusiasm. Mr. W. E. Springer was elected president, Mr. R. C. Sloan secretary and Mr. G. W. Chesnutt treasurer. Committees on finance, speakers, campaign literature, registration and challenges, as per instruction, will be appointed by the president later. Thursday nights were designated as the time and the Merchants' Association rooms as the place for the regular weekly meeting of the club. The secretary was instructed to see that every member of the Union in 1898 be enrolled upon the membership of the club this year. The minutes read last night showed that not a single white voter in the ward failed to register and vote in the last election, which is a very handsome compliment to those active in the maintenance of the organization.

When the club had been formally organized interest was materially added to the proceedings by lively speeches from Walter H. Neal, Esq., and Jno. D. Shaw, Jr., of Laurinburg and G. B. Patterson, Esq., of Maxton, who are in the city attending the U. S. Court. The speeches while quite impromptu were full of good things from their respective counties and especially congratulatory to the Second Ward. Addresses were also made by George Rountree, Esq., Frank H. Stedman, Brook G. Empie, Esq., and H. McL. Green.

The Fourth Ward, the last of those to fall in line, will organize to-night in the Merchants' Association rooms. Chairman Johnson issues an official call in another column and it is earnestly desired that there shall be a full attendance.

It is now definitely settled that Hon. "Buck" Kitchin—that prince of campaigners in North Carolina—will speak in the Fifth Ward Monday night; in Masonboro township at Whiskey Creek bridge, Tuesday afternoon at 3 30 o'clock, and back again in the city, at corner of Fourth and Harnett streets on Tuesday night. Hon. R. B. Glenn, of Winston, will also speak in Wilmington on the night of July 7th.

Cameron Morrison, Esq., chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee of Richmond county, and nominee for the State Senate from his district, arrived in the city last night from a speaking tour in Columbus county. He spoke at Fair Bluff Wednesday; at Mount Tabor Wednesday night, and at Hallsboro yesterday. Speaking of his meeting at Mount Tabor Mr. Morrison said last night that he believed Williams township to be the banner Democratic township in the State. "Last election the Mount Tabor precinct," said Mr. Morrison, "polled only two Populist votes and this year they are not going to poll a single vote against the Amendment—they'll give it 500 hundred majority. Chairman Simmons should send every speaker to Williams township before putting him on a canvass. It's an inspiration."

Mr. Morrison will leave to-day for Farmers' Turnout, Brunswick county, where he will speak, and on to-morrow he will speak at Town Creek. He is much encouraged with the result of his canvass and speaks encouragingly for the Amendment.

J. O. Carr, Esq., of Wilmington, Duplin's able representative in the last Legislature who redeemed his county in the 1898 campaign from Republican rule, will leave to day to look after the Amendment there. He will institute a vigorous campaign, and Mr. Carr is so universally popular with his own people that his work will produce favorable results.

Statesville, 3; Charlotte, 0.

In the fourth of a series of five exhibition games between Charlotte and Statesville base ball team yesterday, at Statesville, the visitors were defeated in a score of 3 to 0. Of the four games thus far played Charlotte has won only one. Kenna and Harrell were the pitchers for their respective teams.

REGISTRATION BEGINS 28TH.

Books Will Be Opened To-day Week. Chairman Simmons' Construction of the Law Regarding It.

In view of some misunderstanding as to when the books will be opened for the registration of voters under the new law the following letter from Chairman Simmons to Major W. H. Bernard, member of the State Executive Committee, will be read with interest, as it definitely settles the question at point:

RALEIGH, N. C., June 20, 1900.

W. H. Bernard, Wilmington, N. C.:

Dear Sir: In reply to yours of June 19th, I will state that after careful consideration, I have decided that registration is to commence on the 28th. The new law says twenty days preceding July 21st. I do not understand that July 21st is to be counted in the twenty days. Registrars may register persons at any other designated places on all days of registration except Saturday, then they must be at the polling places.

Very respectfully yours,
F. M. SIMMONS, Chairman.

Some have contended that the books should not open, according to law, until the 29th inst., and some were also at a loss as to the proper interpretation of the section elucidated in the closing paragraph of the letter above as to the places where voters may be registered.

Those who have examined the law will remember that there will be an entirely new registration. Books will be open from 9 A. M. to sunset each day, Sundays excepted, from June 28th until sunset July 21st. On the four Saturdays of this period, the books will be open at the several polling places. Saturday, July 8th, the books will be open at the polls for challenges. On election day challenges may also be made Voters becoming qualified after July 21st may be registered on election day.

A BOLD HIGHWAY ROBBERY.

White Man Knocked Down on Water Street Last Night by Two Negroes and Relieved of $42.

A white man named Mills, from Bladen county, was knocked down and robbed of $42.00 last night about 11 o'clock by two negroes at the corner of Water and Chesnut streets, and they succeeded in getting off with their booty before being detected. The old man was picked up by two gentlemen who were sitting in front of the Rock Spring Hotel at the time of the occurrence, and carried into the house. He was only slightly bruised about the face.

The assault was a dastardly one and every effort will be made by the police to apprehend the guilty parties. According to the statement of Mills, he was on Water street and hired a negro to carry him to the Rock Spring hotel where he had a room. When they reached Chesnut street, another negro struck him from behind and they robbed him of two $20 gold pieces and $2 in silver before he could give the alarm. The negroes ran away before anybody could get to him and one of them dropped a hat, which Officer Leon George picked up a few minutes later.

Mills is about 65 years of age and is here attending Federal Court. The deed was bold as well as outrageous, having been committed at that hour of the night and near an electric light.

LETITIA LODGE FESTIVAL.

Enjoyable Entertainment Last Evening at Residence of Mrs. Batson.

An enjoyable festival was given last evening by Letitia Lodge, No. 3, Daughters of Rebecca, at the residence of Mrs. Batson, corner Fifth and Walnut streets, and it was largely attended. Among the features of the evening's entertainment were selections by the Mandolin Club, composed of Messrs. Hergenrother, Jas. Price, Joe Loughlin and John Batson; also comic songs by Mr. George Hewlett. Ice cream, cake and other light refreshments were served.

The committee of ladies in charge were: Mrs. Annie Bowen, Miss Bettie Futch, Miss Virgie Montford and Miss Irene Peterson. The proceeds will go to the benefit of the lodge.

At the Hotels.

Yesterday there was another seemingly phenomenal influx of visitors to the city and all the hotels enjoyed a large patronage. Among the arrivals at The Orton were: R. A. Dunn, Charlotte; E. A. Gilchrist, Mullins, S. C.; A. P. Peterson, Latta, S. C.; Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Moore, Dillon, S. C.; T. L. McNair, Laurel Hill; R. B. Jones, Marion, S. C.; C. J. McColl, Mullins, S. C.; L. M. Covington and Miss Bessie Dent, Clio, S. C.; W. D. McLaurin, Walter H. Neal and Jno. D. Shaw, Jr., Laurinburg; E. G. Muse, Rocky Mount; H. B. Register, Whiteville; H. E. Truelove, Leland; L. W. Sanders, P. M. Brown and Miss C. M. Brown, Charlotte; H. A. Townsend, Raynham.

Skeleton of a Man Exhumed.

The skeleton of a man was dug up from the railroad embankment about 50 feet north of the base ball grounds at Hilton yesterday morning by a negro who was engaged in hauling clay into the ball park. The negro was badly frightened and went off to get some one to help him investigate the case. Several white men went to the embankment, which was thrown up when the railroad was built, and found the dry and broken up skeleton of a man. As there was nothing else to do, the bones were re-interred. No explanation of the circumstance could be obtained.

The fire department responded to three calls yesterday. The first was rung in from box 16 at 11.45 A. M. The fire was in the residence occupied by G. W. Mote at 712 North Third street, caused from hot ashes in a closet. Damage about $5.00.

The second alarm, at 12.40 o'clock from box 25, brought the department to Boney & Harper's mill on Nutt street. The fire was in the engine room, but it was extinguished without damage.

The alarm from box 32 at 7 o'clock P. M. was on account of a slight blaze at the residence of J. B. Farrow, 106 North Sixth street. Damage slight.

THE U. S. COURT.

Number of Unimportant Matters Came Before Judge Purnell Yesterday.

POSTOFFICE CASE DECIDED.

Judge Simonton Sustained Demurrer Attacking Bill of Indictment and Mr. Black Was Discharged—Attorneys Admitted to Practice.

The United States Court convened again yesterday morning at 9 o'clock and disposed of a number of unimportant matters. Judge C. H. Simonton was in attendance upon the session for a part of the day though he took no part in the proceedings proper of the District Court.

The following cases were disposed of and at 2:30 o'clock the court took a recess until 9:30 o'clock this morning:

David Vestal, Cumberland; retailing; one year and one day in penitentiary.

Henry McIntyre, Cumberland, retailing; bill waived, defendant plead guilty, 60 days in jail and $100 fine and costs.

Joseph James, Cumberland, retailing; guilty; 90 days in jail, $100 fine and cost.

Walter Perkins, Bladen, working at still and retailing; true bill; plead guilty on information; recognized in sum of $200 for appearance at next term.

G. M. Taylor, Brunswick, aiding and abetting in removal of spirits; continued for defendant to give bond to next term or sci fa and capias to issue.

Frank Skipper, Columbus county, failure to register still and retailing; not guilty.

Lon Edwards, Robeson county, retailing and failure to exhibit proper sign on place of business; judgment prayed and defendant discharged.

Dallas Jenkins, Robeson county, retailing; not guilty.

Wess McEachern, Robeson county, retailing, guilty; judgment deferred.

J. C. McNeill, Lumberton; Ed. S. Battle, Wilmington, and L. V. Grady, Wilmington, were sworn and admitted to practice in the court.

True bills for retailing were returned by the grand jury as follows: Dallas Jenkins, Andrew Leach, Wess McEachern, Flora Oxendine, Handy Bethea, Jim Jenkins, Isam Jones, Archie Fairley, Ed. P. McEachern, Francis Locklear, Jim Henry McMillan.

"Not a true bill" for retailing was returned in cases against the following: Will Ed. Baxley, James Briggs, Geo. Williams, Neill Locklear, N. A. Barton, Rodicy Oxendine.

The following witnesses were called and failed: W. M. Lewis, Bill Gilmore and Oakley McMillan.

The Postoffice Case.

Yesterday the case of former Postmaster Black of Carthage was argued on demurrer before Judge Simonton, of the Circuit Court. The details of the charge were given at length in yesterday's STAR. Judge Bynum, of Greensboro, and H. F. Seawell, Esq., of Carthage, argued as counsel for the defendant and demurred to the complaint on the grounds that the bill of indictment was very imperfectly drawn, which demurrer was sustained by Judge Simonton. The case was quashed after brief argument and defendant dismissed.

At the opening of the court Tuesday there were 92 bills to be passed upon by the grand jury, and not half of the number have yet been examined into. It is very probable that the term will continue through a part of next week.

Full Evening Dress Ball.

Members of L'Arioso and L'Agile German Clubs are arrranging to give a full dress german at the Seashore hotel next Wednesday night, 27th, and the occasion will no doubt be one of the most brilliant social functions given on Wrightsville Beach this Summer. Arrangements have been made with Mr. J. H. Hinton, of the Seashore, for the use of the spacious dining room, and Prof. Miller's excellent orchestra will discourse the music. The dance will be restricted to members of the two german clubs and their lady friends. The dance is being anticipated with much pleasure by Wilmington's society folk.

— Mr. H. G. Wadley left last night for Wytheville, Va.

NO WALKOVER FOR THEM.

A short while ago we published the warning cry of Committeeman Payne, of Wisconsin, against over-confidence by the Republicans in the election of their ticket in November. Later we published an interview with Senator Chandler, in which he also warned the Republicans against over-confidence. Mr. Payne and Senator Chandler are both experienced politicians, who have taken active parts in many campaigns and are close observers of movements on the political arena.

The Chicago Times-Herald is owned and controlled by a strong friend of the President, one of the men who aided Hanna in securing his nomination four years ago and since then his strong supporter until the Porto Rico infamy, against which the Times-Herald vigorously and indignantly protested. But it continued and still is friendly to Mr. McKinley and loyal to the Republican party. It does not, however, shut its eyes to the obstacles that confront that party in the contest before it.

In commenting upon the enthusiasm and the harmony in the Philadelphia convention, it raises a warning voice against mistaking the harmony and enthusiasm among the leaders for harmony and enthusiasm among the people who do the voting, and without whose votes Mr. McKinley and his party will be turned down. Speaking of this harmony and enthusiasm it says:

"But the time has gone by when the leaders and the rank and file of any one party can elect whom they choose and upon whatsoever principles they may see fit to formulate. When parties grow arrogant and merely study their own aims and desires they invite the destruction promised to the folly that says there is no God—which in a republic is equivalent to saying there is no people.

"The unanimity over the head of the ticket is apt to deceive the Republican convention into thinking that "any old thing" that wears breeches will do for its tail, to rely on a boastful recital of what the party has achieved in the four years of McKinley's administration, and to "point with pride" to the success of American arms, diplomacy, and manufactures abroad. But it is a wise saying that "the eyes of a fool are in the ends of the earth." It is the wise man who makes sure of his next step.

"The Republican party may well plume itself on the passage of the sound currency bill, establishing our finances on a solid, single gold standard. In that enactment the party has fulfilled the promise and expectation of its victory in 1896.

"But that very enactment has loosened the bonds that held the hands of independent voters to the Republican ticket. The country is secure for at least six years from any successful assault on its financial credit.

"This alone liberates thousands of voters from the necessity of supporting the Republican ticket as the only defense against the legions of repudiation and national dishonor.

"That the Democracy intends to avail itself of the hopelessness of a campaign against the gold standard is proved by the indefiniteness of its State utterances in indoring the 16 to 1 plank of the Chicago platform.

"Neither must the Republican convention ignore the fact that there are thousands of voters who cast their ballots for McKinley and Hobart four years ago who are stubbornly disaffected toward the party's policy, in Porto Rico and the Philippines. There is the possibility of the loss of many votes on the false cry of imperialism.

"The strong and unquestionable card of the Republican party is the wonderful prosperity of the people and the nation. This prevents disaffection in the party ranks, but it is not a powerful influence in winning votes.

"Let us summarize half a dozen questions that may cost the Republican ticket votes:

1. The Agitation Against Imperialism.
2. The Army Canteen Question.
3. "Our Plain Duty" to Porto Rico.
4. Backward Steps in the Civil Service.
5. The Hay-Pauncefote Treaty.
6. The Sampson-Schley Controversy.

"We do not include the subject of trusts in this enumeration of weak spots in the Republican armor, for the opposition is without a lance than can pierce it, and the scandal over the ice trust in New York has operated to the disadvantage of the Democrats."

"But the Republican party must pronounce boldly for a constitutional amendment providing for the election of United States Senators by popular vote in the Senate. The Senate is the stronghold of trust interests, and it must be reformed.

"We have said enough to show that the Republican convention cannot afford to regard its nominees as good as elected.

"It may well remember that after Philadelphia comes Kansas City, and after Kansas City November.

"There are a million votes in the United States upon which no party has a mortgage.

"Harmony in June does not insure a walkover next Fall"

When a programme is cut and dried, the platform drafted and the candidates nominated before the convention meets, it is an easy matter to have harmony and enthusiasm, and when money is abundant it is easy to get up spectacular performances to add to the picturesqueness and variety of the entertainment. The bosses can arrange all that, but the spectacular performance may be entirely forgotten before voting time comes and the enthusiasm become very damp by that time. Mr. Hanna and his co-laborers have done their part of the work for the show at Philadelphia, but the earnest and telling work must come later and this must be done among people who did not participate in the enthusiasm and the spectacular performances planned by engineer Hanna and his assistants.

As Senator Chandler in his interview enumerated some of the obstacles by which the Republicans will be confused in the coming contest, so the Times-Herald enumerates some, but strange to say, makes light of one of the most threatening issues. It minimizes the Trust issue by offsetting it by the Ice Trust exposures in New York.

These exposures will have no more effect on the discussion of the trust issue than a cool wave in August would have. The New York Ice Trust is a local combination in which very few people outside of New York and vicinity are interested, and in addition to that this Ice Trust was exposed and its managers prevented by Democratic papers. Some of the parties interested in this trust happened to be Democrats but that didn't protect them from exposure, pursuit and prosecution. They can't play the New York Ice Trust against the trust issue. They can't freeze it out that way.

The convention at Philadelphia may be enthusiastic and all that sort of thing but they will find use for all the enthusiasm they can accumulate between now and November.

AT THEIR OLD TRICKS.

The public had a pretty good idea from the outlines that had been given what the Republican platform would be and consequently there are no surprises in it. The only notable feature is the double dealing and fraud that characterize it from beginning to end. Some interest was felt as to whether the financial plank which it was, of course, taken for granted would endorse the gold standard, would couple with the endorsement a declaration in favor of bitmetallism, but it didn't do that, for the money power was strong enough to make the platform builders sit down on that fraudulent bimetallic amendment to the gold standard act.

But in ignoring their platform of four years ago and the bimetallic amendment adopted by their congress, they found it expedient to offset it by a declaration that such legislation would be favored as would insure an ample volume of currency to meet the demands of business while declaring in the same breath that the country has more money than it ever had. Of course this is a fraud just as that declaration for bimetallism was four years ago, and as that bimetallic amendment to the gold standard act was. We are glad, however, that the platform ignores bimetallism, for this commits the party irrevocably to the single gold standard pure and simple by putting silver on the same plane with paper promises to pay.

The tariff plank is a substantial repetition of the old rot about protection to the "American workman," when everybody with two grains of sense knows the American workman wasn't seriously in their thoughts, and that protection is simply for the benefit of a class of men to whom the party managers look for campaign contributions.

Another sop thrown to the workman is the declaration that they favor more stringent immigration laws to protect the American laborer from the competition of laborers from other countries. If this was not a mere political dodge why was not some movement made when Congress was in session to restrict immigration and protect American labor? This was an after thought for campaign purposes only.

The trust plank is sheer rot, so phrased that any trust can walk right through it. It will fool no one, and the trust people fully understand it.

The plank about the Fifteenth amendment, declaring their unqualified disapproval of the franchise laws in the Southern States where qualified suffrage disfranchises negroes, was a sop to the negro voters of the North, and intended to influence them in those States where the negro vote is a factor in elections, but there is about as much sincerity in that as there is in the declaration that the protective tariff is intended to protect the American workman from the competition of cheap foreign labor, or in the declaration that they favor a further restriction of immigration to protect the American laborer from the immigrant laborer. But it is grossly inconsistent in the face of the suffrage laws they have adopted for our recently annexed territory.

Take the platform as a whole, it is characterized by the same duplicity and hypocrisy for which Republican platform builders have become noted, and in which they have become adepts.

MISLED AND BETRAYED.

There are going to be some factors in the coming Presidential election which are now subjects of interested speculation, and which may possibly revolutionize politics in States which have heretofore been safely Republican. One of these is the Republican anti-imperialistic element, which embraces a considerable number of voters; those who object to the breach of faith and abandonment of our "plain duty" towards Porto Rico, and those bimetallic Republicans who were induced to support McKinley in the last election, on the pledge that the party was in favor of bimetallism, and lost the thousands of men who have been made the victims of trusts, but who rallied around McKinley in the last campaign because they were fooled by the fraudulent cry of "sound money." Embraced in these is the very numerous German vote, concerning which the Republican managers are considerably alarmed.

The German voters as a mass are opposed to the Administration policy of expansion, and their antagonism has been further aroused by the intimate relations between this Government and the British Government, and the unfriendly spirit shown by the Administration organs towards Germany. There isn't a paper of any note in the country which has not denounced the Administration policy of expansion and resented the flings at Germany, and the truculence to Great Britain, and prominent German leaders do not hesitate to say that this will lose the Republican party the German-American vote.

Oswald Ottendorfer, of New York, editor of the Staats-Zeitung, the leading German paper in this country, in speaking of the attitude of the Germans, says:

"German-Americans feel that they have been misled and betrayed by President McKinley. Just as they were four years ago, they are now opposed to the unlimited coinage of silver at any ratio. They dread the uncertainty that would follow a silver victory. But in the imperialistic principles of the McKinley Republicans they see a tangible evil which they will reject. In their dilemma they will accept that which they fear the least, and as a body they will cast their votes, I believe, for Bryan."

Mr. Ottendorfer is in a position to be well informed as to the feeling and leanings of the people of whom he speaks, and he is not alone for substantially the same has been said by other German papers and German leaders. At a meeting of the German-American editors some time ago, a resolution was unanimously adopted denouncing the administration policy of expansion.

What concerns the Republican managers in all this is the fact that this German-American element holds the balance of power in several Northern States, the loss of which would ruin the Republican party.

— Fair Bluff Times: Jim Byrd died at his home a few miles above town, on Mr. James Baldwin's place, last Saturday night. He was bit late Saturday afternoon by a spider, which resulted in his death that night.

— Chatham Record: We regret to hear of the death of Mr. Charles Wesley Snipes, of Baldwin township, who died last week at the extreme old age of ninety five years, honored and respected by all who had known him.

— Danbury Reporter: Farmers are putting in full time these days cutting wheat, working tobacco, corn, etc. The wheat crop in this section is better than it has been for years, and there was fifteen to twenty five per cent more sown than ever before.

— Salisbury Truth-Index: The Salisbury Knitting Mill will begin at once the erection of very extensive additions to their factory building. There will be added to the building a dye room 50x80 feet, which will be used for dyeing the yarns. The other addition is a finishing room, which will be 50x63 feet.

— Hickory Times-Mercury (Populist): A Republican speaker, if reports are true, in a neighboring town the other day, made a speech which was too vulgar for ladies to hear. We do not endorse such speeches. Indecent, vulgar language has no place in this campaign. The day has passed in North Carolina when votes can be won by bombast and filthy jokes.

— Clinton Democrat: The Republican Convention met here last Saturday. No ticket was nominated. The convention adjourned after passing a single resolution not to support any candidate for office who favors the amendment. This amounts to an endorsement of the Populists which is not unnatural. There is now no distinguishing difference between Republicans and Populists. Fusion has so unified the two parties as to make it proper to call and consider the amalgamation as all Republican. That being the case, it is time for all white men to get out of it and rejoin their brethren in the Democratic party.

— Lincoln Journal: Sheriff Cline and the officers of all the surrounding counties and towns have relaxed no efforts in trying to find Jackson, who is believed to be the scoundrel who at tempted to murder Mrs. Bettie Wilson on the night of the 3rd, instant, by cutting her to pieces with a razor as chronicled in our last issue. Several times promising clues were followed up, but without result. Jackson is believed to be hiding in a 8000 acre body of woods lying in this and Gaston county. There are acres and acres of this tract that are almost impenetrable, filled with abandoned gold and iron mines, which are full of shafts and tunnels. To search it thoroughly would take a regiment of 500 men. That he is being cared for by a friend is beyond doubt, and the suspect individual is being closely watched. The Governor has decided to offer a reward of $200 for the capture of the assailant of Mrs. Wilson and all evidence goes to show that the man who catches Jackson will get the reward. Mrs. Wilson, the victim, is still suffering greatly, but her wounds are healing and she is in a fair way to recover.

— Military operations in the Philippines have been practically suspended since the rainy season began, and for the ensuing three months both regulars and guerillas must rest on their arms. — General Otis admires, the Tagals very much after his interview with the President, and sees in them many excellent qualities that should go to make up the American citizens after the McKinley heart. But is it not strange that only distance gave this enchantment to Otis's view? Surely if they be as he sees them now, there should be a better use for them than any implied in their slaughter, and Otis can best defend the accepted policy of the United States by showing that the only good Filipinos are dead ones—a formula which gave us a continent and may easily run through an archipelago.—*Jacksonville (Fla.) The Cripple

Who is crippled by accident or deformity hardly understands the meaning of the word "crippled" as compared with the victim of rheumatism. He is not only bent and twisted, but also racked with pain so cruel that he envies the cripple who stumps along on a wooden leg, whistling as he goes. Rheumatism is known to-day as a blood disease. It can only be cured through the blood.

That powerful blood-purifying medicine, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, cleanses the blood of the acid poisons which cause rheumatism. When the blood is cleansed the rheumatism is cured.

There is no alcohol in "Golden Medical Discovery" and it is absolutely free from opium, cocaine, and all other narcotics.

Mr. R. J. McKnight, of Cades, Williamsburg County, S. C., writes: "I had been troubled with rheumatism for twelve years, so bad at times I could not leave my bed. I was badly crippled. Tried many doctors, and two of them gave me up to die. None of them did me any good. The pains in my back, hips and legs (and at times in my head), would nearly kill me. My appetite was very bad. Everybody who saw me said I must die. I took five bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and four vials of 'Pellets,' and to-day my health is good, after suffering twelve years with rheumatism."

The sluggish liver can be cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

— Lord Roberts in South Africa is at the head of the biggest and best army that Great Britain ever put under one man; nevertheless the depleted Boer forces have been able to shut off all communication between him and the outside world for several days. One cannot help wondering what would happen if the Boers had half the number of men that Roberts has.—Savannah News, Dem.

COTTON MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, June 21.—An unsuccessful effort was made on the Cotton Exchange to-day by leading bulls to again stampede their opponents and to bring in an extensive new business. Whereas the market opened higher and then advanced decidedly, the buying movement was followed by a severe break before mid day and during the rest of the session bear sentiment predominated. The English cables at hand when our market opened were rather better than looked for, the crop dispatches were again very bullish and news from the weather bureau at Washington indicated no immediate improvement in climatic conditions over the belt. Foreign and Southern buying orders led local shorts to look for a sharp advance on the call and every effort was made to reduce commitments. The market started steady in tone with prices unchanged to seven points higher, this being later increased to nine and fifteen points in very active general buying and an absence of sellers. The speculative public, however, was slow to load up at prevailing prices while operators having substantial profits within reach displayed a desire to realize. Before the close of the first hour, the edge of the bull movement was off and by mid day a decline to four to five points on the active options was recorded. Early afternoon events were of a bearish character, prices reaching the lowest point of the day under selling for both accounts, based on alarming reports from China, irregularity in the stock market and fear that the recent enormous short account had been superseded by a formidable long interest. Trading was inclined to drag. The close was barely steady, three to nine points net loss.

FROM THE CLIFF.

The wind is fresh, the wind is foul,
The clouds are long and low and gray,
The rocky headland wears a cowl
And looks a monk who kneels to pray
And tell his beads for parting souls,
While out beyond the bar there rolls
A sullen swell, and white and high
Along the cliffs the breakers fly.

Roar, roar, oh, sea! Thy stormy song
Appalls the weak, but nerves the strong.

Look! Yonder bark, with puffing sail,
Has turned her bow to win the sea;
She fears to meet the rising gale
With reef and rockland on her lee,
And as she luffs the blast to greet,
By halyard, clew and straining sheet,
All, all, alert her seamen stand
And watch with anxious eye the land.

Roar, roar, oh, sea! Thy stormy song
Appalls the weak, but nerves the strong.

Then jack on tack she weathers out;
Her topsails shiver in the wind;
Down goes the helm, she flies about,
And, leaping off, soon leaves behind
The rocky dangers and has past
The headland, when the wrathful blast
Bursts from the cloud and wild and grand
Hurls in the sea against the land.

Roar, roar, oh, sea! Thy stormy song
Appalls the weak, but nerves the strong.

HESLOP'S WIFE

She Started Out to Reform the World, but Became the Wife of a Simple Farmer.

"Heaven knows where he picked her up, with her fine clothes and her fine manners. A nice farmer's wife truly!"

"You think he's really married to her, Jane?"

"Married! Of course he is, Mrs. Bissop. You don't suppose he'd bring any lass about this place—his mother's old home—with a lie upon his lips? My brother Joe's a born fool, but he's no liar," and the speaker panted.

"And she's book learnt, too, I hear say," put in Mrs. Bissop mildly.

Jane, who was not "book learnt," turned crimson. "Aye, 'tis said so."

"She's well lookin anyhow. My man saw her Friday—and it's a week since—comin home from market, and he says there's never been a comelier seen in the parish for hundreds of years."

"Fine looks is as good as they goes. She's my brother's wife, and I oughtn't to speak against her, but she's so sleek and so composed and so learnable and so carnying that I take it she's seen more of the world than she ought."

"Lor', Janey! You don't mean to say she lords it over you?"

"Over me? What are you thinking about? There's no one in the country could do that. Oh, no; my lady is as soft as wax, and asks to be shown that and to be told this, and is mighty civil spoken. All put on."

"She ain't said anything about your goin yet"—

"My what?"

"Your leavin the farm? You know she's missus now."

"Not a word. I'd like to see her turn me out," Jane snorted, but privately she wondered why the young woman didn't.

"Don't 'ee really know where she hails from?"

"No, I don't. And, more than that, t'other night I made Joe so mad over one thing and another that he owned up and said he didn't know himself. It's hard on us—decent farmer folk for nigh on 100 years—to have to put up with some rubbish"—

"Enough of that talk, Jane Heslop. If you can't speak fair of your own, don't speak foul. Martha Bissop, you know my sister; she wouldn't speak fair of her own bairn. Let me tell you—my wife's as honest a woman as any of you. You can make that known about the place."

The two women went off in different directions without another word. They lived in a country where man still has some little authority.

At the dairy door Joe Heslop brought himself up, looked down on his shapely limbs, clothed in well made cords, seemed pleased, pulled his coat together, wiped his face and smoothed his hair down with his hand.

"Come in, Joseph; you're just in time to help turn this lot of milk."

She was beautiful, and especially so with the glow and gleam of genial work upon her—a graceful figure, shapely hands and arms, well cut features, large, calm, wide apart gray eyes and glossy hair, which hung in a big knob at the back of her head.

"Joseph," she said solemnly, "I do wish I could get hold of some technical farming terms. I really think we had better not 'butter make' together again. Don't. Oh, don't. Leave off! Wait a moment." And she went and fetched the wet molds, put them in a heap, jumped upon the table near him and began to wipe them.

"I'm sorry your sister doesn't like me. I like her."

"Well, you see, Jane is an odd woman—a very odd woman."

"Not at all. Jane is a sensible creature. Why doesn't she like me?"

"She doesn't object to you personally."

"Then she dislikes me theoretically?"

"If you mean it's—it's because she didn't know you before we were married and because she doesn't know your maiden name, maybe you're right."

"Would that weigh with a woman like Jane?"

"Bless you, yes. Why, we've lived here nearly 100 years, and we've always married decent wenches, all of 'em well known in these parts, and I suppose she thinks"—

"I suppose she thinks you've not married a decent wench?"

"Why, lass, they've only got to look at you to see you're something better than the others. No disrespect to them."

"Joseph, have you ever—any—doubt—yourself?"

"Me. No, no; never," and he left the churn and went toward her.

"Go back!" she cried warningly, and he obeyed.

"Joseph, when you first met me—it is not so very long ago, only a few weeks—I was poor, friendless and homeless."

He nodded.

"Tell me—how do you find me after ten weeks' acquaintance?"

"Perfect. You are a good, hardworking woman. You learn more in a day than the lasses about here could learn in six months. You manage well. You don't chatter, you don't rove, you don't fool, and—you love me."

She bent over and kissed him again.

"I believe I do. Now, I will tell you how I came to be in a destitute condition at the station that night."

"It doesn't matter if you'd rather not."

"I will not, if you stop churning."

He went on turning. She wiped carefully into the intricacies of the complicated cowhead pattern.

"I didn't like my life. It was different from this, very different, and I didn't like what the future had in store for me. It would have been all gayety, all uselessness. I had schemes by which to benefit mankind, and I thought I'd begin with women. I left my home. My people would only miss me from one point of view; they would not grieve for me. I wanted very much to do some really good work, but I miscalculated everything—my strength, my knowledge, my money. It was all a miserable failure. I still want to work, but I want to do it to please myself and my surroundings. Mankind goes right out of my calculations hereafter. What I saw of it hurt me, robbed me, insulted me and landed me in the situation from which you extricated me. Do you, can you, understand?"

"No, no; I don't understand, but I believe you. Do surroundings mean me—this house—this life? Can you put up with it?"

"Oh, yes," she whispered, leaning her cheek against his. "I want peace. I want to be taken care of. I wasn't made to regenerate mankind or revolutionize the world. It didn't take me long to find that out. It's only 12 weeks today since I left my home."

"Afraid I'm interrapting," said a loud voice, and a large woman bounced in. "Heslop, I want to talk to you about the calves."

"Wife, this is Mrs. Norton, our nearest neighbor."

The woman did not look at her, but rushed immediately into prices. She was evidently in an uncomfortable frame of mind, and though she pointedly excluded Heslop's wife from the conversation she was not satisfied with her performance. She presently went off with Heslop to inspect something in another part of the farm.

The light died out of the young woman's face. She left her work and sat quite still for a time; then she went to the window and looked out, and she sighed.

"Opinions pursue me everywhere. Who could have imagined that Jane and Mrs. Norton held any? If I had not been so densely ignorant, I should have known they had some, I suppose. We don't know half enough of useful things; we should be taught the opinions of other classes. They vary, of course, but a rough idea should be given. How was I to know the world was so bad; that the people I wanted most to help would rob me and then turn me from their doors, and that the people I wished to elevate would—would ruthlessly insult me? If it had not been for Joseph! Dear, kind Joseph! Have I made, in marrying him, the worst of my mistakes, I wonder? Does his fine, true nature measure me by what his friends think of me?"

At this moment a young fellow entered the door, sucking a cane. He leaned against a bench and sniggered and seemed quite at his ease—and sure of his welcome.

He scrutinized the girl from head to foot and amiably commenced to soliloquize in a loudish whisper. He did not seem to desire conversation. He went over her points admiringly—in florid blatant, offensive terms. It was his "killing" method and was intended to allure and attract. At length he mentioned: "My name is Norton. You don't seem to know who I am."

"This is surely a lunatic asylum," the young woman said softly, and pinched herself to see if she were awake. Then she went on clearing up.

"You may kiss me, missus—twice if you like."

"My good boy, go home. Do you hear? Find your mother and go home."

"Ah, I see the sort you are! You're on the lookout for the swells. You're used to 'em. I've heard all about you. Poor old Heslop! All the village's talking of his madness."

Jane came bustling in.

"Ah, Mr. Norton, it's you!"

The girl looked dangerous, and she said haughtily: "Take your friend away, please, and find the key of the dairy door. I want no more visitors."

"Hoity-toity. Let me tell you, this door was always kept unlocked in my mother's time."

"Bah! Don't you see, Janey Heslop, the wench wants to lock her visitors in with her."

Heslop and Mrs. Norton passed the dairy door just then. The girl called them in. She was so erect and scornful, Joe scarcely knew her. "Mrs. Norton," she said coldly, "you will take your son away, and you, Joseph, will forbid his ever coming here again."

"My—my—son turned off this farm by you, madam, a woman such as you; a creature no one knows anything about!"

"Mrs. Norton, stop before you go too far. There is some misapprehension here. I should much like to know who put these rumors afloat about this lady—"

Effect of Altitude.

Perhaps in no state of the Union has climate so much to do with the character of the people as in Colorado is the contention of a writer in Ainslee's. He says in part:

"Go into Colorado, climb the long ascent from the level of the Missouri and then as you emerge from the train into the handsomely improved streets and among the unsurpassed brick and stone residences of Denver feel your head swim with the lofty altitude and the rarefied air; then realize that the miners went on a mile farther into the air, that they are working and taking out millions of dollars of gold to the present day a mile higher in the air at Cripple Creek, at Leadville and a dozen other places. It will make you pause to think what exaltation there is in dwelling there always, what staying powers the pioneers must have had.

"Wait a day or so until the vertigo has passed away and the exhilaration comes to you that always comes when you have climbed a mountain and stood upon its top and gazed out over a wide world that expands below you. Then you will begin to feel that electric, that nervous surcharge, that indomitable, undiscourageable, almost towering spirit of elevation and still further elevation that makes Colorado almost the liveliest, the most irrepressible, the most determined element in the American body, social and poli-

"Stop!" she cried warningly, and he obeyed.

"Joseph, when you first met me—it is not so very long ago, only a few weeks—I was poor, friendless and homeless."

He nodded.

"Tell me—how do you find me after ten weeks' acquaintance?"

"Perfect. You are a good, hardworking woman. You learn more in a day than the lasses about here could learn in six months. You manage well. You don't chatter, you don't rove, you don't fool, and—you love me."

She bent over and kissed him again.

"I believe I do. Now, I will tell you my wife?" And he looked at Jane, and he got affectionately close to the young girl and put his haud on her shoulder. "But in spite of it she's a good woman and your superior, and you can see it, and that's why you all dislike her, and if she says young Norton's to go, he goes."

There had been a rush of dogs, horses and pink coats past the farm, but it had not been noticed in the storm. And now an elderly man stood in the doorway. He also was in "pink."

"Heslop, something's happened to my saddle—by Jove—a strange picture. What's up? I beg your pardon—Lady Selina—is it realy you?"

"Yes, Sir Archibald. C'est moi!"

"God bless my soul, child! To think that I should have discovered you! How did you get here? How's your plan for the 'Sublimation of the Lower Working Class?' Ah! ah! They've bowled you over, I expect. There, you needn't explain. Never mind. What are you doing here?"

"I'm living here, and I'm going to stay—because"—

"Well, I know Heslop. I knew his father. Good people. Very solid people—but I say, what about your people"—

"Please say nothing to them yet. I wait my time."

"Of course. I obey, Lady Selina, though I don't know that you're right. Are you pretty comfortable here?"

"I assure you I am indeed." And somehow she got hold of Joseph's trembling hand and held it tight and fixed herself right up against the young farmer, so that he had to put his arm around her.

"And more than that, I am quite perfectly happy, because, you see, I'm Heslop's wife!"—Madame.

The Morning Star.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

FRIDAY MORNING, JUNE 22, 1900.

THE SITUATION IN CHINA.

Washington Officials Hopeful—Supplies and Reinforcements Sent Admiral Kempff from Manila.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—A cablegram received at the Navy Department to day from Admiral Remey at Manila, states that the Zafiro sailed yesterday from Cavite for Hong Kong. She is a supply ship and may proceed to Taku.

The Don Juan de Austria, gunboat, has arrived at Canton from Swatow.

It is said at the navigation bureau that the Zafiro has aboard 150 sailors in addition to her crew. These men may go on the Oregon at Hong Kong to round out her complement or be dispatched on the Zafiro directly north to Taku, in the section of Admiral Kempff who will have command with Admiral Remey before the Zafiro can get to Hong Kong.

Admiral Remey, from Manila, supplemented his previous brief dispatch relative to the sailing of the Zafiro by one later in the day announcing the departure of the Iris from Manila for Taku. The Iris is a water boat, but on this trip she carries a quantity of supplies for Admiral Kempff's little squadron, as well as a cargo of good coal, a commodity which will be sorely needed by the time she arrives.

The developments of the day, apart from those at Tien Tsin, greatly encouraged the officials here in their hope that the worst is past in China and that the difficulty can be settled without any serious change of the political status of the country, at least in its relations with the outer world. The State Department is much gratified with the attitude of the powers. So far as it is informed there is no difference of opinion among the different powers respecting the Chinese situation. Their object simply is to restore peace, protect life and property and leave all further questions for future settlement. So far as can be gathered, there is not a dissenting voice among the powers in answer to the proposition made by the United States to limit the operations of the foreign admirals and navies in China to that simple programme, and if there is a contrary purpose entertained anywhere the particular power has not signified that fact.

BRYAN'S RUNNING MATE.

Twenty-five Democrats of More or Less Prominence Named as Vice Presidential Candidate.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., June 21.—The North American will publish to-morrow morning the result of a canvass of the editors of prominent newspapers throughout the United States, as to the logical running mate of Bryan, in view of the selection of Theodore Roosevelt by the Republican National Convention, as the vice presidential candidate.

There is wide divergence of opinion, at least twenty-five Democrats of more or less prominence being named as possibilities, strong running mates for Col. Bryan. The list of favorites includes such Democrats as former Senator David B. Hill, of New York; Richard Croker; Joseph Pulitzer, editor and proprietor of the New York World; William H. Hearst, of the New York Journal; Senator Tillman; Shively, of Indiana; Bookwalter, of Ohio; General Fitzhugh Lee; Robert E. Pattison, of Pennsylvania; Admiral Dewey, and General Joseph Wheeler.

One California editor suggests Emilio Aguinaldo. The tabulated vote shows a decided preference for Hill, of New York, but no man has a clear majority. Another favorite is Hearst. He is almost as strong as Hill. Gen. Wheeler is another, whose name the editors believe would be a strong one to conjure with. Admiral Dewey finds little favor. Pattison, of Pennsylvania, is regarded by many as a strong candidate, and Fitzhugh Lee is held by not a few to be the one man who can match the popularity of Roosevelt.

IN SOUTH AFRICA.

Gen. Buller Pressing His Advance—Boers Surrendering—Claim Successes East of Pretoria.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

LONDON, June 22, 4 A. M.—General Buller is pressing his advance. On Wednesday he followed the Johannesburg railway to Paarde Kop, thirty-one miles from Standerton. About three hundred Boers singly or in small parties, have surrendered.

The War Office has issued a list of casualties in engagements around Helibron, previously disclosed.

Lord Roberts has adopted the Transvaal mining regulations for military administration.

A dispatch from Lorenzo Marques says: "The Boers have printed and posted at every corner the following: "The Paris exhibition has closed and France has declared war against England. Fifty miles of railway has been destroyed in the Free State and thirty thousand British have surrendered."

Five miles of telegraph between Koomatiport and Koop Maiden, are down, and native runners traverse the distance. The Boers continue to assert that they have had successes east of Pretoria.

The Colonial Office publishes a notification by the military government at Johannesburg of the stoppage of a check for £40,000 drawn by the French bank in South Africa upon the national bank of the South African republic, and warning all persons against dealing in the check, as the funds of the national bank are the property of her Majesty's government.

MR. M'KINLEY AND GOV. ROOSEVELT.

Nominated for President and Vice President by Republican Convention.

AMID GREAT ENTHUSIASM.

Both Nominations Unanimous--Scenes in the Convention—Archbishop Ryan. Quay's Amendment to Rules Withdrawn—Adjourned.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—This was the great day and long before 10 o'clock, the hour set for the re assembling of the convention, the hall was surrounded by an immense army of people who besieged all the doors clamoring for admission. When the doors were opened they surged in like a flood, submerging the vast hall. The stage had been freshened with green things and at each corner like a touch of flaming color, red peonies shot into the air. One old fellow, in the gallery, with charming disregard of the proprieties, divested himself of coat and vest, hung them over the rail and took his seat.

Three minutes before 10 o'clock the Kansas delegation, headed by Colonel Burton, with bright silk sun-flowers pinned to their lapels, aroused the first enthusiasm as they marched down the main aisle, bearing a white banner inscribed in big black letters with the words "Kansas is for Roosevelt."

Governor Roosevelt entered at exactly 10 o'clock. He made a rush of it to day but he did not escape the keen eye of the thousands and they set up a cheer at sight of him. He was rurrounded by the delegates when he reached the pit and showered with congratulations. He made no protestations of dissent, but smilingly repeated his thanks. One gray-haired delegate put his arm around the governor and whispered in his ear. All States were represented in the welcome, with Kansas, the indomitable Roosevelt pioneer leading the demonstration. A few minutes later another outburst greeted the entrance of Senator Hanna.

At 10.20 the big band from Canton, Ohio, the President's home, made its way into the vast hall from the west side and broke out with pealing strains of the National anthem. The whole audience rose to its feet and stood until it was concluded.

Picturesquely dignified, and with a rather incongruous setting, there stood upon the platform during the preliminaries Archbishop Ryan of the Roman Catholic See at Philadelphia. His ascetic face above the purple and black robes of his clerical office stood out cameo-like from the group of politicans of all classes and color, and in all manner of dress. He chatted pleasantly with those about him and rose promptly from his seat when the first notes of the Star Spangled Banner sounded.

Among the early arrivals in the hall was Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt. She sat in the front row on the east side of the hall, immediately to the left of the first row of delegates. She was attired in a pink Summer gown, white collar and delicate four-in-hand tie, and black picture hat, trimmed with feathers and a great bow of white. Mrs. Roosevelt was the cynosure of thousands of eyes.

At 1.36 Chairman Lodge glanced at his watch and then with three raps of the historic gavel stilled the tumult on the floor while the band ushered in the session with the national anthem, Senator Hanna being one of the first to rise and the entire audience following as the inspiring strains reverberated through the building. As the anthem closed the chairman announced the opening invocation by Archbishop Ryan.

The chair then laid the amendment to the rules offered yesterday by Mr. Quay as the unfinished business before the convention.

As the cheers died away at the mention of Mr. Quay's name, the short and sturdy figure of the Pennsylvanian arose in the middle aisle. In a thin voice, barely heard at the platform, Mr. Quay announced the withdrawal of the amendment proposing a change in rules one and twelve, referring to representation in national conventions.

This was accepted by the Southern delegates as a concession to them, and they rose en masse, cheering wildly at the withdrawal of the proposition.

Then Mr. Lodge advanced to the front of the platform, and a thrill went through the vast audience as he announced:

"Under the rules, nominations for the office of President of the United States are now in order."

Then there was a momentary shout, which the chairman punctured with: "The State of Alabama is recognized."

A tall and swarthy Alabamaian stood on his chair and by prearrangement, answered: "Alabama yields to Ohio."

This was the signal for the recognition of Senator Foraker who was to make the speech announcing Mr. McKinley as the candidate for President. Then the cheers began and a wild scene ensued.

After the tumult of applause, Senator Foraker went to the platform and when quiet was restored began to speak, first thanking Alabama for their courtesy in yielding but attributing that fact to the overwhelming popularity of the candidate. As Mr. Foraker continued he was repeatedly interrupted with cheers. His announcement that the nomination of McKinley was equal to an election in November brought vociferous cheers.

But it remained for his closing sentence, for the first time mentioning William McKinley by name as the nominee, to electrify the great multitude. Pandemonium broke loose. Former tempests of enthusiasm paled before this cyclone of sound and movement. Every one stood and waved and yelled. State standards were wrenched from their places and borne aloft with umbrellas, great plumes of red, white and blue, a perfect tempestuous sea of color.

Senator Hanna sprang to the front of the stage, a flag in one hand and a plume in the other, and led in the tremendous demonstration.

When Foraker finished Roosevelt arose with the rest, but undoubtedly with the prospect of his own nomination on his mind, only stood silent, not joining in the cheers and both hands in his pockets. But when Senator Foraker came down the aisle he grasped him by the hand, slapped him on the shoulder, smiling and laughing aloud.

It was exactly fifteen minutes when order was restored and Mr. Lodge announced: "The chair recognizes Governor Roosevelt. He stepped out into the aisle and strode up the platform, looking neither to the right or to the left, and then turned, surveying the sea of waving, cheering humanity.

As the Governor facad about the platform, a man with a camera planted the instrument directly in front of him. As Mr. Roosevelt saw it, he said sharply: "Take that away; take it away," and a sergeant-at-arms rushed the man and his apparatus out of the aisle.

Then Governor Roosevelt began his speech, speaking in a full, clear voice.

The chairman was kept busy with his gavel trying to maintain sufficient order for other speakers to be heard

At 12 37 the voting began. The galleries were noticeably attentive, and there was no unusual demonstration among the delegates until New York's vote was announced by Chairman O'Dell. This brought out a round of applause.

The tally clerks quickly made the official summary and handed it to the chairman. Mr. Lodge took the paper and advancing to the front of the stage said:

"The total vote cast is 930. William McKinley has received 930 votes. It is a unanimous vote and the chairman declares that William McKinley is your nominee for the Presidency for the term beginning March 4th, 1901."

Now again pandemonium broke loose in one swelling chorus of enthusiasm for the new candidate. Up went the plumes and standards. Up stood the great audience, men and women, mingling their shouts and their frantic demonstrations.

Mr. Lodge warned the noisy and demonstrative throng that there was still vital business to be done and announced that the call of States would proceed for the nomination for the Vice Presidency.

As the name of Alabama was called on the roll of States, for the nomination of candidates for Vice President, the announcement was made by the chairman of the delegation that Alabama would yield to Iowa to present a candidate.

Chairman Lodge then recognized Colonel Lafe Young, one of the Iowa delegates at large, and editor of the Des Moines, Iowa, Capital. Robust and vigorous in his physique and in his mentality, Colonel Young swung down the main aisle to the platform to do that which a single orator never before did in a Republican national convention—withdraw one strong and magnetic man as a candidate, and present the name of another for the second office in the gift of the American people. He withdrew the name of Dolliver and offered that of Roosevelt.

The demonstration which followed the announcement by Col. Young of Governor Roosevelt as the candidate of the young men of the country, who represented their desires and their ambitions and embodied their patriotism and Americanism, was not second to that accorded the President's name. The vast assemblage sprang to its feet and State emblems, pampas plumes, handkerchiefs and hats fairly filled the air. The band in the main gallery began to play: "There'll be a hot time in the old town to-night," and to the inspiring strains the delegates began marching around the hall, filing past Governor Roosevelt as he sat in the New York delegation and extending to him their congratulations.

At the conclusion of the roll call Chairman Lodge announced that Governor Roosevelt had received 925 votes, one delegate in the convention not voting. This delegate was Governor Roosevelt himself, who refrained from voting with the New York delegation. Chairman Lodge's announcement that Governor Roosevelt had been nominated for Vice President evoked a burst of applause that fairly shook the great steel girdled building to its foundations.

On motion of Colonel Dick, Senator Lodge was placed at the head of the committee to notify the President of his nomination and Senator Wolcott at the head of the committee to notify the Vice Presidential nominee.

At 2.14 P. M., on motion of Senator Payne, of New York, the Republican National Convention of 1900 adjourned sine die.

NO AUTHENTIC NEWS FROM PEKIN

Grave Fears Still Exist As to the Safety of Europeans in the City.

BOMBARDING TIEN TSIN.

The Situation Looked Upon As Particularly Threatening—No Advices As to Admiral Seymour—Reports of His Death Discredited.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

LONDON, June 22, 3 30 A. M.—The United States gunboat Monocacy was two miles up the Pei Ho river when the international fleet began the bombardment of the Taku forts. According to the Shanghai correspondent of the Daily Express she was shot through the bows. The correspondent says that Chinese riflemen on both banks of the river attacked her, but unsuccessfully.

The scantiness of authentic news with reference to the situation continues. Admiral Kempff's dispatch to the United States Navy Department announcing that Tien Tsin is being bombarded was prominently used by the London papers and commented upon as indicating a change for the worse.

The British admiralty does not believe the report of the death of Admiral Seymour, commander of the international relief column, and semi-official assurances are given that there seems to be not the slightest evidence to back up such a report. It is pointed out that Admiral Seymour had sufficient supplies to enable him to get to Pekin or to get back. "We are hopeful," says the semi-official announcement, "that since he has not done the latter, he has done the former."

A dispatch to the Associated Press, from Shanghai, dated yesterday says: "The consuls met to day to consider the situation, which, in the absence of news from Pekin, is looked upon as particularly threatening. Grave fears still exist as to the safety of the Europeans in Pekin. It was agreed to wire to the senior consul at Che Foo to communicate with the senior officer at Taku, asking for immediate assistance in communicating direct with Pekin, which they believe can be brought about through Sheng, director of telegraphs. They advise that Sheng be asked to explain the interruption of communications."

The stoppage of trade has thrown 10,000 coolies out of work at Shanghai. All the English ladies at Tien Tsin left there Saturday by a train for Taku. Shanghai wires that they had some exciting experiences and would not have gotten through except for the assistance of the Chinese troops. The Boxers made several desperate attempts to attack the train.

Taking advantage of the political disorders, bands of robbers are pillaging in the vicinity of San Chun. The Chinese authorities are powerless.

Precautions have been taken to prevent disturbances in British territory. The explanation given at Hong Kong of the failure of Li Hung Chang to go to Pekin is that there is a rising on the border of Cow Low, hinterland.

The Singapore correspondent of the Daily Express telegraphing yesterday says:

"Kaing Yu Wei, asserts that Russian agents precipitated if they did not entirely organize the present disturbances for purely Russian purposes."

A dispatch to the Daily Telegraph from Shanghai says that the missionaries from Tsang Chou have safely arrived at Wei Hai Wei.

Marines Landed at Woo Sung.

SHANGHAI, June 21.—The blue jackets have been landed at Woo Sung to protect the telegraph station.

Woo Sung is a small maritime town at the mouth of the Woo Sung river and ten miles north of Shanghai. It was strongly fortified by the Chinese but was taken by the British in 1843.

Reassuring Advices.

BERLIN, June 21.—A semi-official dispatch from Tokio, dated June 21st, says the Japanese consul at Shanghai confirms the reports that Vice Admiral Seymour has arrived at Pekin and that the members of the diplomatic corps are safe.

According to an official Japanese report from Che Foo, the foreign settlement at Tien Tsin was reduced to ashes June 18th.

Allies Hold the Forts.

LONDON, June 21, 3.40 P. M.—The admiralty has received the following dispatch from Rear Admiral Bruce:

"Taku, via Che Foo, June 21.—No communication from the commander-in chief in seven days or from Tien Tsin in five days. The allies hold the Taku forts and Tong Ku securely and they will advance to the relief of Tien Tsin when in sufficient strength.

"Troops are expected from Hong Kong to-morrow and 300 from Wei Hai Wei the following day. It is believed that fighting is constantly proceeding around Tien Tsin. Our garrison there should be about 3,000 men.

A Proclamation.

"The following proclamation was agreed to this morning, to be issued forthwith:

"The admirals and senior naval officers of the allied powers in China desire to make known to all viceroys and authorities along the coasts and rivers and in the cities and provinces of China that they intend to use armed force only against the Boxers and people that oppose them on their march to Pekin for the relief of their fellow countrymen.'"

The date that the above dispatch was sent off from Taku is not given, but it is probably June 19.

Li Hung Chang.

HONG KONG, June 21.—Reports have been received here from Canton, that owing to the representations of the foreign consuls Li Hung Chang has consented to remain in Canton.

LONDON, June 21.—The statement that Li Hung Chang has cancelled his passage to Pekin is interesting. How he manages to disobey the Dowager Empress' urgent command is not clear, but evidently fear of a revolution at Canton in the event of his departure induced the consuls to bring strong pressure to bear.

Slaughter at Pekin.

Special dispatches from Shanghai continue to recount wholesale slaughter at Pekin. The soldiers and "Boxers" are said to be massacreing each other and the Chinese and Manchurians are also said to be engaged in mutual slaughter. Prince Tuan is alleged to have sacked and burned the palace, the Emperor is reported to have been killed; the Dowager Empress is represented as missing, and in some quarters it is believed she has committed suicide. All this purports to have been contained in a letter from Pekin received by a high official Chinaman at Shanghai.

Tien Tsin Bombarded.

WASHINGTON, June 21—Acting Secretary of the Navy Hackett received a cable message this afternoon from Admiral Kempff, dated Che Foo, June 21st, saying that Tien Tsin is being bombarded and that the consulate, as well as much of the foreign concessions, are being destroyed. A relief party is en route to Tien Tsin, including 130 American marines, under Major Waller.

Japan's Preparations.

LONDON, June 22.—The Daily Mail in its second edition publishes the following from Yokohama, dated yesterday:

"Great secrecy is maintained regarding Japanese military preparations. Fifteen large transports have already been chartered, and eighteen warships are mobilizing. A field post service from Taku to Pekin is being organized here and will proceed immediately. Chinese military students are leaving Japan."

German Forces in China.

BERLIN, June 21.—Preparations continue for increasing the German forces in China. For the present the fighting force of the German troops will be five thousand, when all shall have arrived, but it is understood that if more alarming news is received the government will send out a volunteer corps, taken from all the regiments of the army, up to 10,000 men.

The armored cruiser Fuerst Bismarck will carry 300 soldiers in addition to a crew of 546. The big cruiser Wineta, which has arrived at La Guayra, has been ordered to proceed to China and the cruiser Cormora, which is now in the South Seas, has also been ordered thither. Similar instructions have been given to the gunboat Luchs

Notice of Amnesty Issued by Gen MacArthur to the Filipinos--Thirty Pesos to Be Paid for Arms

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—The War Department has made public the following notice of amnesty which was issued by General MacArthur to day at Manila:

Notice of Amnesty.

"Manila, June 21.—By direction of the President of the United States the undersigned announces amnesty, with complete immunity for the past and absolute liberty of action for the future, to all persons who are now or at any time since February 4th, 1899, have been in insurrection against the United States in either a military or a civil capacity and who shall within a period of ninety days from the date hereof formally renounce all connection with such insurrection and subscribe to a declaration acknowledging and accepting the sovereignty and authority of the United States in and over the Philippine islands. The privilege herewith published is extended to all concerned without any reservation whatever, excepting that persons who have violated the laws of war during the period of active hostilities are not embraced within the scope of this amnesty. All who desire to take advantage of the terms herewith set forth are requested to present themselves to the commanding officers of the American troops at the most convenient station, who will receive them with due consideration, according to rank; make provision for their immediate wants; prepare the necessary records and thereafter permit each individual to proceed to any part of the archipelago, according to his own wishes, and for which purpose the United States will furnish such transportation as may be available either by railway, by steamboat, or by wagon. Prominent persons who may desire to confer with the military governor or with the Board of American Commissioners, will be permitted to visit Manila and will so far as possible be provided with transportation for that purpose. In order to mitigate as much as possible consequences resulting from the various disturbances which since 1896 have succeeded each other so rapidly and to provide in some measure for destitute soldiers during the transitory period which must inevitably succeed a general peace, the military authorities of the United States will pay thirty pesos to each man who presents a rifle in good condition.

"ARTHUR MACARTHUR,
"Major General U. S. V.,
"Military Governor."

A Peace Conference.

MANILA, June 21.—Two hundred Filipinos met this morning in Manila to determine honorable and decorous methods for securing peace. The results were submitted this evening to General MacArthur, who accepted them.

The leaders of the meeting will use their influence to induce Aguinaldo to accept the arrangement. If they are successful, as they hope to be, they believe Aguinaldo will issue orders in conjunction with the American authorities for the cessation of hostilities.

It was pointed out that the questions to be considered were military and civil, the military being concerned with a cessation of hostilities and the civil with the determination of the political status of the Filipinos. The immediate object of the meeting was to effect peace, and subsequently the readers could consult with the civil commission as to political matters.

It was evident that Senor Paterno was convinced that he could obtain Aguinaldo's sanction to a peace based upon the following seven clauses, which after debate, were unanimously accepted as compatible with an honorable peace:

First—Amnesty.

Second—The return by the Americans to the Filipinos of confiscated property.

Third—Employment for the revolutionary generals in the navy and military when established.

Fourth—The application of the Filipino revenues to succor needy Filipino soldiers.

Fifth—A guarantee to the Filipinos of the exercises of personal rights accorded to Americans by their constitution.

Sixth—Establishment of civil governments at Manila and in the provinces.

Seventh—Expulsion of the Friars.

The statement of the seventh statement was vociferously acclaimed, the entire assembly shouting. "Expel! Expel!"
